PROJECTS

KanaBuddy — Japanese Typing Test

- Built a fun, interactive front-end app that helps users improve their Hiragana identification and typing skills
- Followed the principles of Component-driven Development (CDD) and heavily utilized the component explorer tool, Storybook
- Worked closely with a Developer/Designer and incorporated processes such as design hand-offs and GitHub code reviews

Hajimeddit — Social Media Site

- Built a Reddit-inspired social media platform where users can create posts and connect with one another
- Implemented a high-fidelity Sketch mock-up from a Designer
- Utilized React and Bootstrap Modals for the front-end and an Express server with a Mongo database for the back-end
- Improved user experience by persisting authentication utilizing js-cookie
